DOCTOR FAUST REVIVED, OR MANIFESTA-

TONS ON DEVIL'S CREEK.-Near the Gap Mills, in Monroe county, a small creek, which rises near the Sweet Springs, forms a junction with Second creek. It is known by the Satanic name of Devil's creek. It seems from recent developments that his Satarde majesty is there sure enough, and the name is not a mishomer.

There lived in that vicinity an old gentleman named Billy Reontz, who recently gave man named Billy Reontz, who recently gave to his son-in-law, Eggleston, his farm and all his worldly possessions, enjoining upon him to maintain him, and, at the same time, disinherited all other kith and kin.

Some six with a whose time, and 22-4t J. E. LIPSOMB & CO. Some six weeks subsequent he was taken ill, and informed the tamily that he was going to die, and that he had been a last-brother to the devil for sixteen years, and had powers voequal with him, and that he had sold the entire family to the devil with the exception of one boy, young Eggieston, and directed that they open a chest after he died, such they would find a book wherein he learned all his Caustian magic, and that the same be buried with him. He then directed that his money be given to his daughter, and that the other small property be divided among the family-among other things afterenty is e-dollar shot-gim. It was on Simday, and he di-rected the young man to:go and buy banjostrings and play the banie; then requested that the old man Egglesion should dance. He died affirming that he saw his place in bell, and on the whole the family was so worked up that they were nearly lunatice poster ed the dea that the cevil had count of of them. The young man seems to have taken the lead in affairs, and as he is estentibly not under the Satazic itsiluence, tells frightful revelations. The mily we resorting to all kinds of fetish orgies burned up the money and other property to the amount of about $100, and to get the devil out of the gun took it to the blacksonth shop and broke it to pieces, put up a rost in the rard to represent the devil, and a stigated it with withes, and the neighbor are attracted there far and next. Curiosity is qui wive. One party reports that the young man was kneeling, and the entire family surreunding him, prestrated, praying and making the most frightfubend dispordant noises, regardless of any laterusion. One of the family is so far insare as to be under legal restraint. The book is onitr a conse almanac of issue

1866, but owing to the family being predisposed to superstition: they are so fearfully wrought upon that the hallucination has taken complete control of them, and this once happy mountain: family seems to be in a fair way to be irretrievably rurned, and their peace gone forever, owing to the distracted ravings of a dying man, who was evidently laboring under aberration of

These are the facts: as reported to us, and we give them to the public for what they are worth. - Greenbrier (W. Va.) Independent, 20th.

DUBLIC AUCTION OF ONE THIRD OF AN ENTIRE SOUARE. WITH SMALL BRICK HOUSE THEREON. ON BROAD STREET. ADJOINING LAIRD'S FLOWER-GARDEN.—I will sell at anction on WEDNESDAY, 26th of April, at 5% o'clock P. M., ONE THIRD OF THE ENTIRE SQUARE on the south line of Broad street between Henry and Smith streets, with a SMALL BRICK HOUSE thereon.

This property is bounded on the west by Laird's flower-garden, and on the cast by Henry street, and fronts 100 feet on Broad, extending back between parafiel lines 140 feet to an alley 20 feet wide. The lot is well set in shrubbery and evergreens, and a few large trees, being formerly a nursery.

As an investment this property recommends itself, owing to the small brick house, which by its annual reits pays not only the taxes, but interest on the investment, while the property is rapidly enhancing in value, owing not only to the late improvements upon Broad street, but also the numerous improvements in this immediate vicinity.

Terms: One fourth cash; balance in six, twelve, and eighteen months, interest added, and secured by a trust-deed.
